Mary Anderson will appear at Major Hall December 1st.

Moses Butcher wants to sell his residence in South Frankfort.

Read the announcement of Dr. W. B. Cheatham's arrival in the column of Local Notices.

Mrs. Bohannan informs us that she has purchased fifty fine bronze turkeys which she will sell cheap. Go to see her at once and engage a turkey for Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Jos. LeCompte has purchased the stock of drugs and medicines of Mr. R. W. Tilford, and has re-opened the South Frankfort drug store. Mr. LeCompte is a sober, energetic, reliable young man, and should receive a liberal patronage. He has a nice stock of goods, and will sell at low prices.

F. V. Gray & Co. will have a big lot of the finest oysters ever brought to Frankfort, in bulk and in cans, for Thanksgiving day, and they are receiving so many orders that they are obliged to ask their patrons to leave orders in advance for oysters on that day. Don't forget it, but go at once and order your oysters.

Messrs. Frank C. Hughes and Clay H. Hatchitt have bought out Mr. W. T. Samuels' insurance business, and have associated themselves together, under the firm name of F. C. Hughes & Co., for the purpose of engaging in and carrying on the insurance business in this city. Their office is on Main street, opposite the Farmers' Bank, and the companies they represent are first-class. They are enterprising and reliable young men, and should receive a fair share of business.

Photographs of Gen. Hood and wife, and their eleven orphan children, are on sale in the city. The money realized from the sale of these pictures goes into the fund for the Hood children. The pictures are about 14 by 17 inches square, well executed, and underneath are the names and ages of the children. Besides getting an ornament for your parlor, you will be doing an act of charity by purchasing one of these pictures. Go to the Quartermaster General's office and ask Col. Nucknols about them.

Wednesday, about dark, Tandy Graves, a colored man, was returning from work in the neighborhood of Stedmontown, when he met a white convict, and asked him where he was going. "It's none of your business; you interfere with me and I'll blow your head off," was the reply. "All right," said Graves, "I've got a pistol too," running his hand in his pocket. The white man, thinking he really had a pistol, weakened, and Graves marched him on to the house of another colored man, named Harry Dotson, where he procured a double-barreled shot-gun, and got Dotson to accompany him, and the two brought the convict to town and turned him over to the authorities at the penitentiary.

Rip Arnold is going to have a turkey shooting on the hill south of Frankfort next Thursday, Thanksgiving day. He will warm the boys up with a big, hot fire—nothing more.

A very good crowd went to see the "disembodied spirits (?)" at Major Hall Thursday night, and they saw 'em—in their minds. Miss Fay and her assistants are very clever sleight-of-hand performers—nothing more. The piano, table, and mid-air performances were simply advertising dodges. These frauds did nothing more behind the folds of the dark-room curtain than has often been done in the glare of gas light before thousands of people. "Spirit power in the light" means sleight-of-hand performances in the dark. One of the most transparent tricks performed by the "powers" was the writing of communications "from the spirit land." They purported to be from Olney Jillson, Sam. Craddock, Hon. Thos. N. Lindsey, and Jas. E. Flynn. All of them expressed themselves as happy in "this beautiful spirit land," and Judge Lindsey kindly informed the audience that he was with his wife, but neglected to say which one he was with.

These spiritualists (?) were in the city several days before they gave their entertainment, and had ample time to gather such information as they needed to impose on the credulity of the people. They performed some clever tricks, for which they deserve credit, but we have too much faith in the intelligence of the audience to think that any one, except a very few, believe that disembodied spirits had any thing to do with the "manifestations," so called.

At last Frankfort is to have Pinafore. Miles' Juvenile Pinafore troupe will appear at Major Hall Monday evening next, Nov. 24th. Of this troupe the Cincinnati Commercial says:

The Miles Pinafore Company opened to-night at the Grand Opera House to a large and fashionable audience. The appearance was a grand success, and many of the audience declare it the best presentation of Pinafore they ever saw. Especially was the Buttercup of Ella Emmanuel and the Josephine of Sallie Cohen pleasing, and both were repeatedly encored most enthusiastically. They were the sweetest Little Buttercup and Josephine ever on the stage. Master L. Sloman, as the Boat swain, was twice encored, and Willie Arlington, as Rackstraw, was loudly applauded. Master S. Sloman distinguished himself as Dick Deadeye. The company play three more nights, and promise to be the sensation here. They are all Cincinnatians.

Malignant and subtle indeed is the poison of scrofula, and terrible are its ravages in the system. They may, however, be permanently stayed and the destructive virus expelled from the circulation with Scovill's BLOOD & LIVER SYRUP, a potent vegetable detergent which eradicates all skin diseases, leaving no vestige of them behind. White swelling, salt rheum, tetter, abscesses, liver complaint, and eruptions of every description are invariably conquered by it. Sold by Hughes & Chiles, Druggists.

Many of the friends of Capt. Jacob Swigert will be surprised at the intelligence of his marriage, which took place at the residence of the bride's brother, in Danville, on the 19th inst. The fortunate young lady was Miss Susie Lyne, of Henderson, who is possessed of rare merit. The happy couple is making a tour of the Eastern States. We wish them an abundant share of happiness and prosperity.

Next Thursday, 27th inst., is the day appointed by the President of the United States and the Governor of Kentucky as a day of prayer and thanksgiving, when it is expected that all secular business, except retailing whisky, will cease for the day. There will be religious services at the Methodist Church at 11 o'clock, A. M., of that day, to which everybody is cordially invited. The following is the programme of the thanksgiving service: Voluntary, choir; reading scriptures, Rev. C. W. Miller; hymn, Rev. W. McD. Abbott; prayer, Rev. J. M. Lewis; hymn (collection for the poor), Rev. J. B. Tharp; Sermon, Rev. J. W. Pugh; prayer, Elder George Darsie; doxology, choir; benediction, Rev. J. W. Pugh.

A runaway party from near Peak's Mill, consisting of Mr. David Church and Miss Annie Hannon, accompanied by Mr. Joe Calvert and a young lady friend, arrived in this city last Sunday night and stopped at Church Bros.' stable to exchange their spring wagon for a hack, and while there Mr. Larry Hannon, the father of the would-be bride, came up in hot pursuit and inquired whose wagon it was that had just come in, but failing to get the desired information he left to secure the services of the police. The young people, who, in the mean time, had been hiding in the darkest corner of the office, hurried out of the back door of the stable and went to the depot, where a hack was sent them, and eluding the police and the cruel parent, made their way to Louisville, thence across to Jeffersonville, where Mr. Church and Miss Hannon were made one. They returned to this city Tuesday as happy as Junebugs, and ere this have been forgiven by the old folks, and everything is lovely.

WEEKLY ROUNABOUT.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 22, 1879.

O. S. Walcutt received a large lot of choice boots and shoes this week.

Messrs. Day & Haff have some interesting reading in our column of Local Notices.

A Main street lot and a desirable residence are offered for sale for two weeks. Apply at this office.

Don't forget the Thanksgiving service at the Methodist Church at 11 o'clock next Thursday morning.

We are glad to see that very wide belts are played out, even here in Frankfort. No lady of taste can now be seen with one.

The advertisement of Mrs. A. J. Talbott, dress maker, appears in another column of this paper. The ladies might find it to their interest to read it, and give Mrs. Talbott a call.

Messrs Carter & Payne, insurance agents, have taken quarters in the rooms beneath the ROUNABOUT office, and are prepared to issue policies at as low rates as any first-class companies can afford.

The Christmas holidays are near at hand, and our readers must read the advertisements in this paper if they want to know where the best, cheapest and greatest variety of Christmas tricks are kept for sale.

The ROUNABOUT is read by more people in Franklin county than any other paper ever published in Kentucky. As an advertising medium in this county it is without an equal. Try it and be convinced.

There will be preaching every night next week at the Baptist Church, by Rev. J. C. Stackhouse, of Lexington. Mr. Stackhouse is one of the ablest preachers in the State. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Last Saturday night a fire broke out in the new livery stable of Mr. M. E. Jett, but was discovered in time to prevent any serious damage, one bucket of water being all that was necessary to extinguish the flames.

Overcoats have been in great demand this week. Mr. Berberich, the fashionable tailor, has been as busy as he could be filling orders. He makes an overcoat fit to a nicety, and charges very reasonably for his work.

From the Council proceedings published in our last issue it appears that 200 bushels of coke was donated to Mrs. F. T. Lyons. It was given for the use of the parish school, of which she is teacher, and not for her individual use, as many supposed.

Mr. Jno. M. Banta lost on last Saturday a plain gold ring, which he valued as a souvenir, and for which he will pay a handsome reward. He thinks it possible he may have weighed it out in some package of groceries, or dropped in some basket.

The attention of city tax-payers is called to the advertisement of the City Marshal, which appears in another column of this paper. You must pay your city taxes by the first of next January, or you will incur additional costs by having your property sold.

"Helen's Babies" are the cutest little tricks in town. Go to Banta's and see them.

The Franklin County Teachers' Association and Normal School was organized on Saturday last, and will meet every Saturday during the coming winter. The teachers should all attend punctually, as it will be of great advantage to them. All persons who desire to prepare themselves for teaching are invited to attend.

Going to the fire Saturday night, Mr. J. Stephens was assisting to pull the hook and ladder truck, and, when near the bridge, a negro man in front of him tripped and fell, Mr. Stephens falling over him, and before he could get out of the way the truck passed over him, breaking one of his ribs and bruising him up considerably.

A colored man of this city, who has recently returned from a trip to the vicinity of the Three Forks of the Kentucky river, reports that he saw sixty boats loaded with coal lying on the bar near Beattyville awaiting a tide to take them off, and any number of rafts of the finest logs he ever saw. If the recent rains have been heavy enough in the mountains to cause the wished-for tide we may soon expect the saw-mills that have so long been idle, to begin work again, and coal will certainly come down to poor men's prices.

Every man, woman and child who owns a share of stock in the Kentucky Industrial Association is earnestly requested to be present at a meeting of the stockholders, at Judge Thomson's office in the courthouse, at 2 o'clock, P. M., on the first Monday in December, County Court-day, at which time a full report of the assets and liabilities of the Association will be shown and the question of continuing or discontinuing the fair will be determined. Let every stockholder remember the time and place, and be promptly on hand.

We are requested by the officers of the Fire Department to say that if the crowd will stay away from the engine house when an alarm of fire is given, they can get the engine out quicker and with a great deal less trouble. There are men enough paid by the city to take charge of all the apparatus used on such occasions, hook and ladder truck included, and those who rush in are more in the way than they do good. On last Saturday night the door of the engine-house was broken open by the crowd before the horses were hitched to the engine, and a great deal of confusion was the result. If you do not belong to the fire department stay out of the engine-house when there is an alarm.

The new pipe organ for the Christian Church is completed, and to-morrow will give forth its full, round, sweet tones, under the touch of the builder's hands. It is a magnificent piece of work—a thing of beauty. It was made by H. Pilcher & Sons, of Louisville, expressly for the Frankfort Christian Church. It is placed in the south-west corner of the audience room, having three sides exposed to view. The pipes are highly ornamental, and the lower part of the instrument is encased in fine oiled walnut. It is the only organ in the world of its kind, the nearest approach to its shape and build being the organ in the First Baptist Church of Louisville.

Mr. Darsie's talk to young people to-morrow night will be the question, "Should Christians Dance?" All are invited.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT--Supplement.

Mrs. Bulger is rebuilding her house, at the head of Main street, that was destroyed by fire last spring.

Foresters meet next Wednesday evening at 7½ o'clock. Go and hear something new concerning the order.

The people of Frankfort are not only suffering for coal, but for water. The first of the week the hydrants were not supplying any water, the pumps were dry, and the river at low water mark. It's a terrible state of affairs.

Mr. Sam. Bently brought to this office a few days ago a beet weighing six pounds, which was raised on Mr. R. W. Lawler's farm, in Shelby county, and it is a splendid specimen. Mr. Bently says he will show beets against anybody in Franklin or Shelby counties.

A lady, on being asked to partake of more pudding, replied: No; many thanks, my dear madam, I have already indulged the clamorous calls of a craving appetite until a manifest sense of internal fullness admonishes my stay. My deficiency is entirely and satisfactorily satisfied.

The weather clerk, if a male, must be on a terrible spree, or if of the feminine gender, a heartless coquette, for the way the winds, the clouds, and the temperature have been slung around by the powers that control them, for a few weeks past, has wrought untold confusion among the weather prophets.

Mr. Sidney French, Grand Worthy Counselor, I. O. G. T., spoke at Cropper's Depot Tuesday night in the cause of temperance, and added sixteen names to the lodge of Good Templars at that place. He also spoke at Pleasureville Wednesday night, and at Christiansburg Thursday night, organizing lodges of Good Templars at both points. He made a temperance address at Bagdad last night, but with what result we have not been advised.

A few days ago Mr. W. H. McFadden, of the railroad section force, whose headquarters are 4 miles west of the city, hearing a commotion among the fox-hounds on Mt. Beaver Dam overlooking the Pryor farm, took his gun and went to the spot, hoping to get a shot at sly Renard. Sure enough, on nearing Beaver Dam, he spied his game, and, raising his gun, fired and killed the largest red fox seen in this country for many a day. Mr. McFadden reports him 5½ feet in length and weighing 18 pounds.

A great many people sat up till a late hour Thursday night watching for Prof. Tice's meteoric shower. It is unnecessary to say they were disappointed. About 3 o'clock a slight shower of rain fell, accompanied by a strong gust of wind. The patter of rain on the roof awakened a lady, who jumped up exclaiming to her husband: "There they come; the stars are falling!" Several old gentlemen were seen yesterday morning intently watching a star that was supposed to have fallen the night before and lodged on a cloud.

Bridgeport.

Mr. Ben. Farmer and lady have returned from their visit to Mercer county.

Miss Josie Reddish, who has been visiting relatives in Louisville has returned home.

Thanks to the editor of the Capital City Gem for a copy of that highly interesting, instructive, amusing, and sparkling little sheet.

Prof. J. H. Shinn, our able and efficient magistrate, who has been attending the Court of Claims at Frankfort, has again resumed his school.

Married—Near Keene, Jessamine county, on the 6th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Cyrus Mahan, by the Rev. Mr. Lapsley, Mr. Joseph Parrent and Miss Mattie Mahan.

Mr. George Sudduth, formerly of Louisville, but now of this county, has traded his property there to Prof. J. T. Gaines, of the Eighth Ward School, Louisville, for his farm near this place.

Married—Near this place, on the 13th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Bird Sargeant, by the Rev. Thomas J. Stevenson, Mr. Wm. Crooke, and Miss Lizzie G. Sargeant.

Married—Near this place, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. A. A. Powers, on the 13th inst., at 1 o'clock, P. M., by the Rev. Jerome Sampson, Mr. Pat. Allen, of Shelby county, and Miss Ella D. Powers. Attendants—Miss Annie Dorton and Mr. Chas. Perkins.

John H. Reddish, Esq., will take charge of the Alms House as soon as the present incumbent vacates. Our people were somewhat astonished at the election of the Squire, not having heard of his being a candidate for that office. But he is said to be the best electioneer on this side of the river.
